

Michael Kahn

Mike grew up in Daytona Beach, FL, and, after graduating from Atlanta's Emory University (BA Biology, DDS) he pursued a career in dentistry, both in private practice (general dentist in the military and private practice) and in academia (boarded oral pathologist), residing in both Memphis and Boston. He retired in 2015 as an emeritus professor, chair, and lab director of the Department of Oral Pathology, Oral Medicine, and Craniofacial Pain (Tufts University School of Dental Medicine) and now lives in Dunedin. Mike's continued ties to his specialty include consultative input to dental industry and organized dentistry (past president of both the Academy and Board of Oral Pathology), providing medical and dental continuing education courses, and as a visiting adjunct professor at Roseman University College of Dental Medicine (Henderson, NV).

Since joining UUC in 2016, Mike has participated and volunteered in various UUC functions as well as being its current librarian and worship associate committee co-chair. He also served on Rev. Roberta's transition team in 2021-22 and has been a Zoom host/trainer. Mike is hopeful his 35 years' experience in organizational structure, governance, and leadership positions will be helpful in advancing the UUC's mission and vision.
